PROGRAM BOOK

Chicago, IL

Welcome to Chicago!

We are pleased to present a robust and pluralistic program that represents the many interests for the Society. Our theme this year was to highlight things have been “othered” in psychology and psychoanalysis. In line with this we have programming that combines research with clinical applications. We have advocacy and psychoanalysis in education. We’re happy to offer programming for and by graduate students and we have many ways to engage socially for graduate students, early career professionals, and social events with other divisions on themes such as social justice.

Now let’s talk about what to do beyond the conference programming! There is no city in the world with as much notable modern architecture as Chicago and the best place to appreciate it is from the river that flows through downtown. By far, the most recommended tourist activity is a river-boat architecture tour. Book through the Chicago Architecture Foundation. When you’re done with the boat tour, walk along the Riverwalk (think San Antonio meets the High Line), stop and have a glass of wine while locals moor their boats and join you. Nearby, the Art Institute of Chicago was recently named the #1 museum in the world by TripAdvisor and has recently had their comprehensive impressionist and modern collections bolstered with a massive private donation of contemporary art. In August, there will be exhibits dedicated to the work of Édouard Manet as well as to the Anti-Apartheid Posters of the Medu Art Ensemble in 1970s South Africa. Chicago is also home to the country’s most vibrant theater. There are tickets to Hamilton available! Check the website Theatre in Chicago for the top rated plays in town at any given moment. The Goodman, Steppenwolf, and Chicago Shakespeare Theater are the top houses in town. We are the home of Improv comedy, with most of the cast of Saturday Night Live, from its inception, being discovered at local clubs here. The two most well-established venues are I/O and The Second City. When it comes to food, there are too many great restaurants to name, with food from all over the world, so pull out your Michelin guide and let them help you. If you have time for shopping, there is high end shopping along the beautiful Magnificent Mile on Michigan Avenue and on Oak Street. If you’d like to get a little further off the beaten path and into the heart of real Chicago, we recommend visiting the National Museum of Mexican Art in the Pilsen neighborhood and then walk a few blocks to Carintas Uruapan for the best carnitas you’ll ever have. Finally, another thing that Chicago is known for is blues and jazz. For blues, you’ll want to get to Kingston Mines in Lincoln Park and for jazz, you can’t do better than former speakeasy The Green Mill in Uptown.

Choose Chicago is the official office of tourism. Check out their site for the latest happenings around town! <https://www.choosechicago.com/> There is something for everyone, and too much to get done in one visit, but we hope you’ll attend as much programming as possible and take in as much of Chicago as you can. We’re looking forward to seeing you in August!

Sincerely
