

Dear Division 39 members and supporters,

The DIVISION/Review editorial staff is pleased to share with you the first issue of the DIVISION/Review Digest, which will arrive in your inboxes periodically throughout the year. The aim of the Digest is to offer contributions in addition to the quarterly D/R print edition, ranging from the application of psychoanalytic ideas to social and political concerns, to psychodynamic research and book reviews. The Digest will provide a well-organized and accessible space for analytic ideas, in keeping with DIVISION/Review's goal of expanding dialogue across schools and disciplines.

Additionally, we invite you to follow us on social media accounts to receive additional articles, research commentary and reviews. You will find links to our social media accounts at the bottom of this email.

Please find Issue 1 of the DIVISION/Review Digest below. If you have a question regarding your subscription to the print edition, contact David Lichtenstein at divisionreview.editor@gmail.com.
